

EMORY UNIVERSITY
ATLANTA, GA

Position Opening: Assistant Professor in ARTS, SCIENCE, AND TECHNOLOGY

Arts, Science, Technology. Assistant Professor (tenure-track, tenure home in the humanities), beginning Fall 2012. MFA or PhD required. Teaching 4 courses per year, advising, committee, and non-teaching duties. This interdisciplinary appointment seeks to advance humanistic inquiry by applying its traditional principles to new fields of study and by exporting principles of humanistic inquiry across not only the humanities but the academy much more broadly. This position is open to scholars across the humanities and arts, including cultural studies and linguistics, art history, creative writing, dance, film and media studies, the ILA, music, theater and visual arts. Please visit this site for a full job description: <http://music.emory.edu/COMPUTER/artsserach.pdf>

Review of applications begins December 1, 2011; finalists will visit campus beginning in January. Applications received by December 9, 2011 will be given full consideration. Applications should include a cover letter, current c.v., writing sample/portfolio, teaching portfolio, and three confidential letters of reference. Send applications to Jamie Weems at mellon2@emory.edu. Emory University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, and actively seeks applications from women and minorities.
