

Wesleyan University

The Feminist, Gender and Sexuality Studies Department at Wesleyan University seeks to hire a one year, visiting assistant professor beginning July 1, 2024, with substantive research and teaching interests in the area of Race, Gender and Sexuality. Feminist, Gender and Sexuality Studies is an interdisciplinary department offering an undergraduate major in the study of gender and sexuality as categories of analysis and experience within the broad matrices of race, class, ethnicity, and nation. Wesleyan is a highly selective liberal arts college that values both scholarship and teaching very highly, has a strong, diverse undergraduate student body, and offers competitive salaries and benefits. The Visiting Assistant Professor will teach introductory (Gateway) core courses for the FGSS major, as well as elective courses in their area of specialization, and will carry a 3/2 teaching load. Ph.D. or advanced graduate course work in women's and gender studies or other relevant academic discipline in the humanities or humanistic-oriented social sciences required; a successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment. Applications received after March 29, 2024 may not receive full consideration. Please contact Meghan Demanchyk, Administrative Assistant of the FGSS Department (mdemanchyk@wesleyan.edu), with any questions regarding the position or application process.

To apply, visit <https://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/10284>. A complete application includes electronic copies of the following documents: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, the names and contact information of three references, a statement of teaching interests and philosophy, sample syllabi, writing sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (if available). In the cover letter, applicants should describe how they will embrace the college's commitment to fostering an inclusive community, as well as their experience working with individuals from historically marginalized or underserved groups. You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we will obtain confidential letters of recommendation. Applications should be submitted online at <https://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/10284>.

Wesleyan University, located in Middletown, Connecticut, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religious practice or creed, age, gender, gender identity or expression, national origin, marital status, ancestry, present or past history of mental disorder, learning disability or physical disability, political belief, veteran status, sexual orientation, genetic information or non-position-related criminal record. We welcome applications from women and historically underrepresented minority groups. Inquiries regarding Title IX, Section 504, or any other non-discrimination policies should be directed to: Vice President for Equity & Inclusion / Title IX Officer, 318 North College, 860.685.4771